BZA Check Off Sheet

- Schedule pre-application meeting with staff planner

The applicant should meet with a staff planner prior to submitting an application. This is to make sure that the applicant has complete information on what to apply for and how to apply for it at the time of application. It helps if the applicant brings all relevant information (maps, aerial photos, plot plans, documents, and so forth) to the meeting for the planner's review.

- Fill out application

The applicant should fill out the application found in the application packet, sign it, and have the signature notarized. If the applicant is not the property owner, then the property owner must also complete and have notarized the affidavit and consent section on the second page. An application cannot be heard by the BZA without the property owner's consent. The applicant's email address is required as communication between the applicant and Planning & Building Department will be exclusively through email unless other arrangements are made. Property information (parcel number, township, and so forth) can be obtained from the Auditor's Office or by using the County's Beacon online geographic information system:
<http://beacon.schneidercorp.com/?site=HendricksCountyIN>

- Pay fee

The application and legal notice fees are found in the application packet. These can be paid with a single check made out to the Hendricks County Plan Commission. We are not able to accept credit or debit card payments.

- Provide a copy of the subject property's deed

With some approvals, the Board of Zoning Appeals will officially record information related to the approval of the applicant's petition. Once recorded, the information is linked to the subject property. A legal description of the property (found in the deed) is necessary so that recording can take place. We will also need the book, page, and instrument numbers of the recorded deed, which are obtained from the Recorder's Office.

- Print aerial location map

To accurately locate the subject property, an aerial photograph showing the property (clearly delineated) and the immediate surroundings must be submitted. This can be obtained from Google Maps, Bing, or the County's Beacon online geographic information system.

- Draw site plan

A site plan clearly lays out the relevant detail of the subject property. The site plan must include the following where applicable: north arrow, boundary lines of the property, locations of existing streets or other public ways, railroad and utility rights-of-way, easements, building setback lines, locations of all buildings, parking and loading areas, traffic access points, traffic circulation patterns, open spaces, landscaping, service areas, utilities, signs, yards, and other relevant detail. Although not always necessary, drawing the site plan to scale is advisable. If the site plan is oversized, an 8.5 x 11 inch reduced copy must accompany the application.

- Write letter of intent

The letter of intent is the applicant's letter to the BZA stating why approval of the petition is necessary. The letter of intent should address the following: (1) who is seeking the variance or special exception, (2) the nature of the variance or special exception, (3) why the variance or special exception is needed, and (4) how the request conforms to the legal standards for granting variances or special exceptions. Information on the specific legal standards is found in the application packet.

- Draft notification letter

The notification letter lets property owners in the vicinity of the subject property know about the applicant's petition. Care must be taken to do this step properly as incorrect notification results in a canceled hearing. A sample notification letter is provided in the packet as well as information to help the applicant determine which property owners must be notified. Be sure to use this precise format and make sure that you supply the correct dates. The necessary meeting dates are found in the schedule supplied in the application packet.
- Mail notification letters at least 10 days before the hearing

Notification letters must be mailed to certain property owners in the vicinity of the subject property no later than 10 days prior to the hearing. The applicant must supply a mailing list as part of the application. Rules regarding who must be notified and how to get mailing addresses from the Auditor's Office are found in the application packet. Note that if the subject property is within 660 feet of a state or federal highway, the Indiana Department of Transportation must get a notice. INDOT's mailing address is in the application packet.
- Complete and submit the affidavit of notice

The affidavit serves to certify that the applicant did, in fact, notify nearby property owners of the hearing as required by law. An affidavit form is provided in the application packet. Once notification letters are sent, the applicant should complete the provided affidavit, sign it, and have it notarized. Along with the affidavit, certified mail return receipts or a first class mail certificate of mailing must be provided as proof of meeting the notification requirement. Failure to provide complete proof of proper notification will result in cancelation of the hearing.
- Be prepared for follow-up communication with staff

Please be prepared to respond in a timely manner to queries from staff as the application is reviewed and prepared for hearing. Unless otherwise arranged, communication will be via email.
- Attend hearing

The applicant or applicant's representative is responsible for attending the hearing and explaining the variance or special exception request to the BZA. Although not required, a short PowerPoint presentation by the applicant is usually helpful in making the case. The presentations can be submitted at the hearing on CD or thumb drive.
- Post-approval follow up

The applicant will receive a copy of the approved findings of fact. In some cases, conditions of approval are included in the findings which restrict the applicant's use of the property or require the applicant to do certain things. It is important that the applicant carefully read the findings of fact and conditions of approval (if any) as they tell the applicant precisely what was approved and what he or she is committing to doing. If there are conditions of approval to be recorded, then the property owner will sign a commitment recording form authorizing the Planning & Building Department to record the conditions.
- Understanding conditions of approval

Conditions of approval are commitments that the applicant is bound by, so understanding how to comply with them is very important. Staff is available to answer any questions the applicant may have concerning compliance with conditions of approval. It is important to note that the failure to meet all conditions of approval constitutes a violation of the Hendricks County Zoning Ordinance and may result in fines, legal action, and the revocation of the approval.
